

Winter Climbing Forecasts Disclaimer

This forecasting tool makes predictions on the ethical condition of Winter climbing routes in the United Kingdom and beyond. It has been provided by the creator in good faith to this purpose.

The tool uses artificial intelligence techniques, which you accept will not be accurate nor reliable for every situation. Accordingly, you accept that you must additionally judge the ethical condition of a route for yourself, before you start climbing and independently from this tool.

Importantly the tool does not make predictions on the risks of approaching, climbing and descending from a given route and consequently you agree that using the tool in this way is product misuse and negligent. Therefore, you agree it is essential that you judge the risks for yourself, outwith these ethical condition predictions. This includes independently assessing the risk from avalanche, the weather and the route itself, which explicitly are not services provided by this tool.

Climbing and mountaineering are activities with a danger of personal injury or death. Participants in these activities should be aware of and accept these risks and be responsible for their own actions and involvement - UIAA participation statement.

You agree that the creator accepts no liability whatever for financial or reputational loss, damage to property, nor for personal or third party injury or death, arising directly or indirectly from its use.